...About BRUCKLINN:

This year the grand finale of the three-staged children's and youth festival BRUCKLINN - Youth Theater Building Bridges will take place in Innsbruck. Children and adolescents will conquer Innsbruck's stages from June 26th to July 1st 2023 and perform their plays at a variety of theaters.

On the first two days, Monday and Tuesday, children's theater groups are invited to perform their productions at the „Brux - Freies Theater Innsbruck“. International youth theater groups will perform at several different stages in Innsbruck from Tuesday to Saturday. You are invited to spend five days with us in Innsbruck and take part in the theater festival's diverse program. Plays from all over the world, workshops, opportunities for networking and exchange, board and lodging and much more are offered.

In addition to the participants, the program is accessible to the general public, giving anybody with an interest a glimpse into the vast variety of different cultural approaches to theater.

...to the motto connACTed:

Children and Youth Theater builds bridges between cultures, languages, generations ... This year's international encounters are entirely in line with the motto connACTed: We connect by acting and watching plays together.

“I perform, therefore I am. I perform with my body and language, in which all of me is, even more, than I realise. I perform with who I am, with what I am and what I could be. I perform with others, perceive them, react to them, and observe how they see me.

„I discover that we show ourselves by acting out our situations. We approach each other, hug each other, get in touch with each other. And recognise parts of ourselves in each other.”

“And I encourage others to perform, tempt, entice them to the play, to transform, to gather, to recognise one's own situation and the joy of being, and being for others - in the play and thus in life - that we can say: “We play, therefore we are!” (Rellstab 2000, Verlag Stutz Druck AG)
